The teaching aid outlines the main concepts of the course “Political Science” studied in higher educational institutions.

A general overview of modern political science and its development problems are given in the topics of the textbook. The most important topics that interest all students of higher professional schools are covered.

The work is based on the educational, methodical and reference literature in political science, materials revealing world and domestic experience, the current state of social and political development.

The textbook contains lecture material covering fifteen topics of the political science course. It helps students to study the basics of political science, its specifics, main categories and paradigms. The content of the textbook corresponds to the educational standard of higher education and can be recommended for students’ independent work.
